

thank you

Dear CMS Teachers,

My child started attending CMS when he was 18 months old, and for the first two months, he had a hard time because he hit his friends and did not follow the teacher's instructions. As parents, we felt very sorry and tried to fix him, but the pastor told us that this period would pass anyway and that we should pray to God to resolve it. He also encouraged us to think deeply about what God wanted to say to us parents and teachers through Juwon and to pray more. If it were another school, we would have received numerous warnings and harsh looks, but at CMS, everyone prayed for him and for us and treated him with warm hearts. Fortunately, my child is now enjoying school life without any problems. When I say "let's go to school" in the morning, I see him excitedly putting on his shoes and leading the way, and I feel that the difficulties he had experienced a while ago have turned into warm and exciting hearts.

thank you

And through Montessori education, children are guided to feel each sense and learn many things on their own. So, when I see them not only learning words and actions that were not taught at home, but also organizing and tidying up, I think the power of education is enormous. And learning English and Korean at the same time is a bonus.

I am grateful to God and the CMS teachers who made all this comfortable. We will keep our child at CMS as long as possible and support and pray for him.

I am happy to provide my opinion, even without a contest!! Hahah!!

Our son Hugh has just finished his second year at CMS. We love the Christian teachings - the children Love to sing songs of worship! The staff treat all of the children with such kindness and respect. They do a great job of keeping the families informed of how the child is doing, what material they are learning, and how the parents can help to reinforce the topics.

thank you

The staff at CMS are great!! They know all the parents by name. They are so creative to think of activities the children will love, such as Rodeo Day, Bicycle day, Easter Egg hunt and Spring Field day. The kids love these extra activities.

We have been amazed at how our son has grown during his time at CMS. His vocabulary is quite good, and we love to watch him interact with new friends outside of school. He is very good at applying lessons learned at CMS: taking turns, good manners, treating others with respect, confidence in introducing yourself.

This is a great school, and I wish they had up to high school! The rates are very reasonable, and the curriculum is a great implementation of the Montessori ideals. We are very happy for Hugh to attend!

Yours Sincerely,

Max Dunlap
