

Thank You

To the CMS staff

In our household we absolutely adore Central Montessori School. We can tell it is such a wonderful place literally before our daughters even enter the front door because of the incredibly compassionate, kind-hearted enthusiastic way we've watched the staff greet our daughters in the morning and send them off in the afternoons. We know our daughters at CMS are in good hands just from that loving spirit alone. To tour the classrooms to see what the kids are learning is itself an amazing experience, not to mention our discussions with staff on the work CMS does to instill not just good quality education but good and Godly character as well. Perhaps the most wonderful moment I saw on the influence of CMS in our daughter was one day driving through Houston on an errand and my daughter, sitting in the back of the car in a child's seat starts telling about the Holy Trinity, specifically citing "the Father, Son and Holy Ghost," and my wife and I had not yet even explained this concept to her.

But there she was, all of four years old, telling me about theology, and I knew that was the influence of CMS on our daughter. We only wish this school had grades clear through high school, we'd keep our children here all the way to graduation.

Yours truly,

John Siemssen
